ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

(Include expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings, and alterations)

The 1 1/2 story home is located slightly above 3rd Avenue as it rises up the hillside and turns onto Ganong Street where there is level entry to the site from the east. The house faces north from the relatively level bench area and significantly spans over a creek and improved waterway that is diverted into a culvert shortly downstream. The original rectangular footprint of the house has a one story 'L' shaped addition at the rear

Exterior Materials: front facing gable roof with composition shingles and central brick chimney; channel siding, corner boards and plain trim, hipped full width front porch supported on four chamfered posts, square pickets at railing; concrete foundation; matching materials at addition; Windows: wood 4/4 double hung, typically in pairs; divided and paired wood casements

Alterations: Extensive rehabilitation in mid 1980's; Addition appears to have replaced prior rear alterations, date not known, design and materials are compatible with primary structure. Windows are a mixture of historic and restorations. New wood deck to west of house

Landscape: planting is fairly open, some ornamentals mixed with native species and large trees; lot climbs greatly at rear (south); one of the active Canemah streams passes under the house, channeled by both structured stone walls and the natural stream bed; stone outcroppings are visible on site; cedar fencing for privacy at east (main street access up the hill) and rear

HISTORY

(Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period [preferably to the present])

Irvin Carothers (b. Ohio, 1822) married Hilah Ann (b. Ohio, 1823) in 1849. They came west over the Oregon Trail in 1853 and settled on "a ranch 2 miles above Canemah." In 1865 they moved to Canemah. He and his wife had five children. The 1870 census lists Irvin as a laborer. The history of the house is obscure. The lot was purchased by Ervin and Hilah Ann who lived next door at 310 (now) 3rd Avenue. The title of the lot passed to Martha and William Plummer in 1912, however the house clearly predates 1912. Martha was the eldest surviving Carothers child. It may be possible that the house was built by Ervin and donated for his daughter's marriage in the early 1870's. Irvin died in Canemah on 10/7/1890. Hilah Ann died on 1/29/1913 at the age of 90, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. M.A. Plummer, Canemah.
