CITY MATTERS

by Mayor Alice Norris

Behold the turtle - he make progress only when he sticks his neck out.
James Bryant Conant

WHY YOU SHOULD RUN FOR CITY COMMISSION

What an exciting time to live in Oregon City - a city being 'discovered,' a city in transition, a city with big challenges and bigger opportunities! The actions we take and the decisions we make over the next few years will determine our city's economic and financial health.

The November election is very important for Oregon's 16th largest city. We will elect two new city commissioners to join Bob Bailey, Tom Lemons and me. Doug Neeley is term-limited and thus prohibited from running; Gary Hewitt is not seeking re-election. They will be missed! September 2nd is the filing deadline for candidates.

Why should you run? Because you can truly make a difference. Oregon City sits at an important crossroad in its history and you can play a vital role in shaping your town. The salary is limited (none!), but the benefits are many: successful projects, engaged and supportive citizens, and a goal-oriented professional staff.

You are a qualified candidate if you have lived in Oregon City long enough to appreciate its unique natural setting, historical roots, and changing demographics. Do you care deeply about this community and its future? Would you enjoy working with other creative, conscientious, and competent citizens to make our city a better place to live and work? Are you an independent thinker, but understand the importance of collaboration and cooperation in credible decision-making? Do you believe that Oregon City's success is tied to good relationships with her regional partners? Do you know what kind of community you want Oregon City to be?

Your biggest challenge will be the long-range financial health of the city. Fortunately, our 24-member Blue Ribbon Task Force has just spent 4 months intensively studying all possible options. Their recommendations (available for review at city hall) provide a broad-based plan to provide financial stability, build community, and improve essential city services. The City Commission will adopt a final recommendation in early November.

To help citizens understand the seriousness of Oregon City's needs, you will have to communicate the critical shortage of police officers and the crowded conditions in our police department and city hall. You will get to help solve these pressing issues, plus the exciting re-development of our downtown and waterfront.

Public service isn't always easy, but it is always interesting, challenging, absorbing, surprisingly fun, and ultimately rewarding! Consider the possibilities!

E-mail me at: norrisa@teleport.com for more information!

THE MAYOR AND CITY COMMISSIONERS are volunteers who do not keep regular office hours. They may be reached via voice mail at 503-657-0891. The city Commission meets on the first and third Wednesday of the month at 7:00pm in the commission chambers at City Hall. Any citizen is welcome to address the commission on any subject at the beginning of each meeting.

Willamette Falls Cable broadcasts meeting live on Channel at 7:00pm and rebroadcasts them throughout the month. For a schedule, call 503-650-0275 or log onto www.wftvaccess.com.

SCOTT ARCHER TAKES OVER OREGON CITY'S COMMUNITY SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Welcome Scott Archer, Oregon City's new Community Services director. Archer, who is from this area, will start working August 30 and will replace Dee Craig, who retired at the end of June.

Archer leaves Medford, a much larger city that's on sound financial footing, for a town facing serious budget problems.

"Scott possesses a blend of talent we were looking for. He brings a level of professionalism and demeanor to the organization," said City Manager Larry Patterson, who selected Archer over five other finalists.

Archer, 37, will be leaving leave Medford Parks and Recreation where he held the job of director for 16 months. In Medford, Archer was managing 15 park development projects and oversaw the master plan for the $17 million Medford Sports Park, a 132-acre project intended to take the pressure off heavily used neighborhood parks.

Archer served nearly four years as parks director in Ellensburg, Wash. Before that, he worked five years for the North Clackamas Parks and Recreation District and three years with the Oregon City School District.

NEWS FROM THE OFFICE OF CITY RECORDER

WEB PACKET IS AVAILABLE

You can now access the City Commission's regular meeting packet via the City's web site at www.orcity.org. This new service allows people to read not only what items are on the City Commission's agenda, but also the reports and their accompanying attachments. Reports and their attachments are hyperlinked to each agenda allowing the reader to click onto and read them. These documents require you to download an Adobe Acrobat reader to read them. There is a link to download this program for free on the City's web site. The first web packet was launched on March 3, 2004. The instructions to access the web packet are quite simple: (1) Browse to www.orcity.org and click onto City Commission agendas, which is located under the blue banner called Boards/Committees. (2) The meetings of 2004 pop up in a table format; so select a meeting by clicking onto "agenda" for the specific date you wish. (3) To read a specific report on the agenda, merely click onto the blue highlighted and underlined (hyperlinked) commission report to access it. (4) To obtain any attachments to a report, such as accompanying ordinances or resolutions, merely scroll down to the bottom of the report page and click onto the exhibits that have blue highlighted and underlined links. Bear in mind that if exhibits were not provided electronically, they will not be available as a hyperlink in the web packet. To obtain a hard copy of the exhibit, contact the City Recorder at 503-496-1505.

ELECTION TIME – TWO OPEN COMMISSION SEATS

There are two open positions for City Commission seats in the upcoming General Election on November 2, 2004. The filing deadline is not later than 5:00 p.m. on September 2, 2004. To qualify to run for office, you must be a registered voter and have resided in Oregon City during the twelve months immediately preceding the election. The term of office for each seat is 4 years. If you are interested in filing as a candidate for one of these two available seats, contact the City Recorder at 503-496-1505.

THE RULES FOR POSTING POLITICAL SIGNS

There are less than 100 days until the next general election. As the political season approaches, here are some helpful reminders about posting political signs:

- Applications and fees are not required to post a sign on your own private property
- Signs on public property or placed in the public right-of-way are subject to removal and possible fine.
- The maximum sign area is 4 square feet.
- Applications are available through the Planning Department if signs are larger than 4 square feet.
- The City recommends receiving written consent of a property owner before placing a sign on their private property.
- Signs may be erected no sooner than August 4 and must be removed no later than the fifth day following the election.

For more information call the Oregon City Planning Department at (503) 657-0891.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT NEWS FROM YOUR CITY ENGINEER

2004 CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

Oregon City Public Works wants you to know about the construction projects that will be underway this summer. The projects listed below are being funded through the water, sewer, and stormwater utility fees you pay; urban renewal taxes; and the system development charges (SDCs) new development pays for infrastructure expansion. State law requires that utility fees and SDCs be used to improve or maintain the utility for which they are collected. If you have questions, please call the contact listed for the project.

Thank you for your patience during construction inconveniences. Please respect the flaggers whose job is to maintain safety for everybody in a construction zone.

REMINDER FROM YOUR CODE ENFORCEMENT DEPARTMENT

The Code Enforcement Department would like to remind you to assess your property regularly. Low limbs and other vegetation may extend into the right-of-way, street or sidewalk, creating pedestrian and vehicular hazards. City Code requires property owners to remove dead branches and dangerous limbs from street trees along side and in front of their property. Trees are to be trimmed to maintain a minimum seven-foot clearance above all sidewalks and ten-foot clearance above the street. Thank you for tending to these street trees to keep sidewalks and streets safe and passable for all.

For additional information, please contact Nancy Busch, Code Enforcement Coordinator at 503-496-1571.

REGISTER TO VOTE!

If you are not yet registered to vote for the November election, it's not too late. The deadline to register is October 12th. Registering is easy and forms can be found in multiple places including banks, post offices, public libraries, the DMV, and the Internet (<http://www.sos.state.or.us/elections/other.info/vr.htm>). Forms are available at City Hall, Carnegie Center and the Library. There is a registration card in the back of the government section of your Quest phone book. If you require an absentee ballot, send a note to the Clackamas County Election Office that includes your home address, the address to which you wish to have the form sent, and your signature. Be sure to also include whether the need for an absentee ballot is for the upcoming election only, or for future elections as well. Ballots can be mailed, or delivered in person to Clackamas County Elections office at 825 Portland Ave in Gladstone or at the DMV.

PERMITS NOW AVAILABLE ON THE WEB!

Our interactive mapping site, OCWebMaps, has been a great success — every month it ranks in the top 10 of our most-frequently-visited webpages. On the site we provide base mapping layers, aerial photos, planning overlays, utility locations, assessor information, and now, permits! There are two ways you can access the permit information. You can go to OCWebMaps (<http://maps.orcity.org>) directly and type in an address or taxlot number, which will return permit status and other information. Or if you know the permit number you may search for it directly from the building page (http://www.orcity.org/community-develop/building/permit_search.htm)

BE FLOOD READY!

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY AND PROPERTY FROM FLOOD HAZARDS

A HISTORY OF FLOODING IN OREGON CITY

In February and November of 1996, Oregon City and its surrounding area, was hit with wide-spread, localized flooding. The flooding occurred due to the combined factors of rain, snowmelt, frozen ground and high tides. Low lying areas along the Willamette River, Clackamas River and Abernethy Creek flooded.

1996 was not the first time Oregon City sustained flooding. History shows that the main streets of Oregon City were flooded as early as 1861, when the Willamette River overtopped and inundated the streets with four feet of water.

Since 1861, severe riverine flooding on the Willamette occurred in 1890, 1924, 1943, 1948, 1956, 1964 and 1996. Major floods on the Clackamas were recorded in 1923, 1931, 1960, 1964 and 1996.

TYPES OF FLOODING

River channels, ditches and other water courses can only carry so much water. When precipitation brings more water (or when a blockage occurs in the water course), the surrounding land is flooded. In the Pacific Northwest, flooding is most common from October through April. Oregon City is subject to two types of flooding: riverine and local drainage.

Riverine flooding occurs along our three major streams: the Willamette River, the Clackamas River and Abernethy Creek. Riverine flooding is a threat to life and safety and can endanger people either when a flash flood hits an area with no warning or flood waters slowly rise and people ignore basic safety precautions.

Local drainage flooding occurs along smaller creeks and drainage ways throughout the City. Local drainage flooding is more likely to create smaller scale inundations of roads or properties. There are three general types of problems:

- High water tables after local storms sometimes mean wet crawlspaces, yards and basements. This is especially true in the south parts of the City.
- In some areas, the lay of the land means surface water doesn't drain quickly to a receiving stream or storm sewer.
- Storm sewers and culverts may be too small to convey heavier flows.

Life and safety threats from flooding include impassibility of roads and bridges, electrocution, contaminated water and damage to emergency services and public health facilities. More people are killed in their vehicles by floods than in any other location because the driver ignores warning signs or barriers and tries to travel a road or cross a bridge.

ARE YOU IN A FLOOD ZONE?

A 100-year floodplain is an area that has a one-percent chance of flooding in any given year. These areas in Oregon City have been mapped by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) for the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

However, additional areas were also flooded by the February 1996 flood which is classified as the highest flood area of record. Together, the FEMA-mapped and February 1996 flood areas comprise the City's flood management overlay district, which is subject to development. The Oregon City flood management overlay district is illustrated on the back of this pamphlet. These areas are known as Special Flood Hazard Areas (SFHA). For more exact information to find out if you are in a flood zone, call the Oregon City Community Development Building Division at 503-657-0891. Office hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

FLOOD INSURANCE RATE APPLICATIONS

In order to establish actuarial insurance rates for flood insurance, the Federal Insurance Administration has developed a process that takes data from engineering studies. Three factors used in this process are the reach determination, a flood hazard factor and flood insurance zones.

The reach determination is defined as lengths of watercourses having relatively the same flood hazard, based on the average weighted difference in water-surface elevations between the 10- and 100-year floods. Within Oregon City it was determined that the Willamette River has two reaches which meet the criteria.

The Flood Hazard Factor is a device the Federal Insurance Administration uses to correlate flood information with insurance rate tables.

After the determination of reaches and their respective Flood Hazard Factors, the entire incorporated area of the City of Oregon City was divided into zones, each having a specific flood potential or hazard. Following are the flood insurance zone designations:

- Zones A9 and A21: Special Flood Hazard Areas inundated by the 100-year flood, determined by detailed methods.
- Zone B: Areas between the Special Flood Hazard Areas and the limits of the 500-year flood.
- Zone C: Areas of minimal flooding.

FLOOD INSURANCE

The City participates in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), which makes flood insurance available to everyone. The City makes continual efforts to reduce flood damage potential, which reduces insurance rates. For many people, their home and its contents represent their greatest investment. If you are located within a SFHA, you are urged you to buy flood insurance to protect yourself from flood losses. Your homeowner's insurance policy will not cover losses due to flooding.

Following the February 1996 flood, 300 Oregon City households applied for FEMA disaster assistance. Of those 206 received a total of $1,336,500 in assistance.

In contrast to the FEMA figures, there were only 12 flood insurance claim policies. Two of these claims were for residential properties located outside the mapped floodplain, but apparently are subject to local drainage problems. These 12 insured properties received $969,000.

These figures show that the few who were insured received much higher payments than those who received disaster assistance.

Don't wait for the next flood to buy insurance protection. There is a 30-day waiting period before National Flood Insurance Program Coverage takes effect. Contact your insurance agent for more information about flood insurance, rates and coverage. You do not have to live in the floodplain to qualify for flood insurance. Property owners can insure their buildings and contents, and renters can insure their possessions.

THE THREAT TO PROPERTY

When flooding occurs, there is not only the threat to life and safety, but also property. Within the 100-year floodplain in Oregon City there are 112 buildings within the areas mapped that are subject to over bank flooding.

Most of these buildings are located in the lowest part of the City, where the three streams converge. Smaller floods have been caused by obstructions and blocked culverts on Abernethy Creek. However, larger floods are actually caused by backwater when the Willamette and Clackamas Rivers flood. The flood prone area includes these critical facilities:

- The Tri-City wastewater treatment plant which serves Oregon City, West Linn and Gladstone.
- The South Fork Water Board intake for the water treatment plant that serves Oregon City and West Linn.
- The Metro South solid waste transfer station.
- An electrical power substation.

FLOOD WARNING

When high intensity storms move through the Willamette Valley, the Portland River Forecast Center and the National Weather Service of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration are responsible for river stage forecasting on both the Willamette and Clackamas rivers. Forecasts and flood warnings prepared by the center are disseminated through Clackamas County Emergency Services, radio, television and website updates. Forecasts are prepared from the US Geological survey gage on the Clackamas River near Clackamas and from the US Army Corps of Engineers gages above and below the Willamette Falls.

SURVIVING A FLOOD

Preparing for a flood before it occurs can prevent loss of property, possessions and, in the worst situation, lives. Follow these tips to prepare for a storm before it becomes an emergency.

- Know the safest route from your home or business to high, safe ground.
- Put insurance policies and lists of personal property in a safe place, such as a safe deposit box.
- Prepare a family disaster supply kit. The kit should contain items such as:
 1. Flashlight
 2. Portable, battery-operated radio
 3. Extra batteries
 4. First aid kit and manual
 5. Emergency food and water
 6. Non-electric can opener
 7. Essential medications
 8. Cash and credit cards

9. Sturdy shoes and warm outer wear for you family
10. Blankets

- Monitor local weather forecasts.

Floodwaters can rise rapidly. Be prepared to evacuate before the water level reaches your property.

- If evacuation is required and you can safely do so, turn off all utilities at the main power switch and close the main gas valve.
- Move to higher ground if you can do so safely—DO NOT attempt to walk through moving water.
- Do not drive in flooded areas.
- Do not remove manhole covers or drain gates.
- If you are caught at home by rising water, move to the second floor or the roof. Take your disaster supplies kit with you. Wait for help—don't try to swim to safety.
- Beware of downed power lines.
- If you come in contact with floodwaters, wash hands with soap and clean water.
- Stay out of disaster areas unless authorities give you permission to enter.

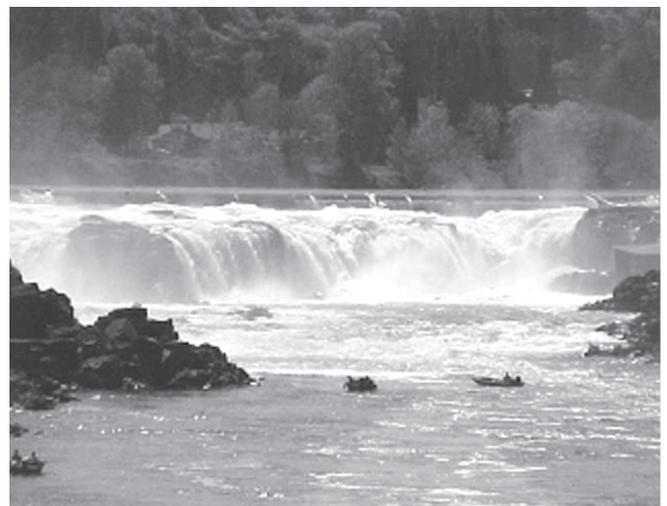

PROTECTING PROPERTY

Proactive steps taken before a flood can help protect your property during a flood.

Purchase sandbags before the rainy season begins and sandbag around your structures when flooding is imminent. Sandbags are available inexpensively at retail sites across the county, including Home Depot and Fred Meyer, and other local home improvement stores. Keep materials such as plywood, plastic sheeting and lumber on hand. To be effective, sandbags must be properly stacked. Check with local home improvement stores for sandbag demonstrations.

There are other steps that can be taken to protect your property from flood damage. Consider elevating your house above the flood hazard or diverting possible floodwaters around your structures.

Property owners are responsible for maintenance activities for their own property, but if you think the maintenance requirement is within the city-wide drainage system, call the Oregon City Public Works Stormwater Management Division at 503-657-8241. We'll send a crew to evaluate the problem.

FLOODPLAIN DEVELOPMENT REQUIREMENTS

All construction or fill within a floodplain (except normal farming activities) require a grading or fill permit and a floodplain management permit. If you plan on building or grading within the floodplain or drainage swale, please contact the Oregon City Community Development Department at 503-657-0891.

If you know of any non-permitted floodplain construction or fill, please contact the Oregon City Public Works Code Enforcement Division at 503-657-0891. All new structures constructed within a flood hazard area are required to be constructed such that the lowest floor of the structure is at least one foot above the flood hazard. Substantially damaged or improved structures have the same elevation requirements as new construction. A substantially improved/damaged structure is where the cost of the improvement/damage is equal to or greater than 50 percent of the fair value of the structure, before the improvements are made or the damage occurred.

DRAINAGE SYSTEM MAINTENANCE

In 1990, Oregon City formed its Stormwater Utility in order to fund new programs for stormwater management throughout the city, including preventive maintenance, drainage repair and construction projects. With these programs, all of the city's storm drain systems are systematically cleaned on a periodic basis before serious problems occur. The creation of the Stormwater Utility also allows for more repair and construction projects that directly target local flooding problems. Typical sources of problems that may require cleaning or new construction include blockage by tree roots, overgrown drainage ways, undersized or deteriorated pipes, physical damage from other construction, or landscape conditions altering over time.

Drainage problems are most frequently caused by debris NOT passing through drain inlets and blocking the flow of water. Keeping gutters and drain inlets clear of leaves and debris is one of the best things homeowners can do to prevent localized flooding. If your inlets are clear, but water is still not draining properly, call the Oregon City Public Works Stormwater Management Division at 503-657-8241. We'll send out a field crew to evaluate the problem.

Do not dump or throw anything into drainage ditches, streams or storm drains. Dumping into our ditches or streams is a violation of Oregon state law and Oregon City code. Even grass clippings and branches can accumulate and plug channels. Every piece of trash contributes to flooding. If you see dumping or debris in our drainage ditches or streams, call Oregon City Public Works Code Enforcement Division at 503-657-0891.

Drainage easements allow Stormwater Utility field crews to maintain public drainage systems that are on private property. Property owners that have creeks, ditches, or pipes that carry runoff across their parcel can grant a maintenance easement to the city for this portion of their property. If you have an easement on your property, do not build over the easement. Without an easement, the property owner is responsible for maintaining the ditch, pipe or channel. If you would like more information on easements, call the City Engineer at 503-657-0891.

OREGON CITY STORMWATER MANAGEMENT

Oregon City, like other cities within the Metro area, works hard to protect our creeks and rivers by keeping urban storm water runoff clean and natural. Stormwater management includes educating the public about urban runoff pollution, encouraging storm water-friendly daily routines and organizing public involvement in community and clean-up events. Many products, such as fertilizers, pesticides and antifreeze are apparent toxins, but some of the products we use every day are unsuspected toxins, such as paint and motor oil.

Rinsing toxic substances into storm drains pollutes our creeks and streams because storm drains are direct paths to our waterways. Never dispose of chemicals or other toxic waste by dumping into storm drains or sinks. Take your unused toxic chemicals to the South Metro Substation for disposal. The station is located at 2001 Washington Street, here in Oregon City. They are open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday thru Saturday for household hazardous material disposal. For more information, call Metro's information hotline at 503-234-3000.

FACTS ABOUT STORM WATER POLLUTION

- One teaspoon of diazinon, a commonly used pesticide, makes 2.5 million gallons of water toxic to some aquatic life.
- One quart of oil will contaminate 250,000 gallons of water. The oil from one motor oil change can create an 8 acre oil slick.
- Pollutants that enter storm drains end up in the Clackamas and Willamette Rivers. Remember ~ the Clackamas River is our drinking water source.
- Fertilizers encourage the growth of algae which can reduce the amount of oxygen in the water and lead to fish kills.
Water quality benefits:
- Clean water in our rivers is used for drinking, wildlife and recreation.
- A healthy riparian corridor enhances water quality by filtering sediments and toxic metals, absorbing excess nutrients, and shading the creek to keep temperatures down.
- Stream corridors are ribbons of green that provide a healthy habitat for wildlife and an attractive space in the neighborhood.
- Storm drainage facilities that are free of sediment and trash require less maintenance.

NATURAL AND BENEFICIAL FUNCTIONS OF FLOODING

Natural and beneficial floodplain functions include both the natural infiltration capacities of floodplains, as well as minimizing the pollutants that can enter waters from floodplain development activities.

Flooding is a natural process that helps restore a river's health, clean its sediments, create critical aquatic and streamside habitat, exchange nutrients between the river and floodplain and renew its fisheries. Floods can clean out accumulations of large wood. They can also bring leaves, needles, wood and dissolved nutrients into the river giving aquatic communities access to new habitats and increase food supplies.

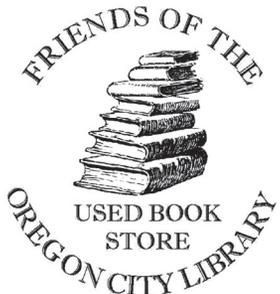

Floodplains in their natural and relatively undisturbed state provide numerous beneficial natural resource functions and values, including: moderation of floods, flood storage, water quality maintenance and groundwater recharge; habitat value for plants and animals; and scientific, historic, agricultural, recreational and aesthetic values.

YOU CAN HELP REDUCE POLLUTION IN OREGON CITY'S LOCAL WATERWAYS

- Properly dispose or recycle trash and yard debris.
- Properly dispose of pesticides, oils, paints and other toxic material.
- Dispose of litter and animal waste in the trash can.
- Sweep sidewalks and other paved surfaces—put debris in refuse can.
- Participate in storm drain stenciling. The stenciled message tells people not to dump anything down the drain inlet. Storm drain stenciling is a great way for concerned citizens to help reduce storm water pollution and protect our waterways. To get your stenciling kit, call Oregon City Public Works at 503-657-8241.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT FOR LOCAL STREAMS

Residents within the Greater Oregon City Watershed Region have joined with the Clackamas County Soil and Water Conservation District to create a new Watershed Council. This council is a non-regulatory, volunteer, citizen based groups that will work with the local community to conserve, restore and enhance local waters and their unique resources.

Many residents of the area are still un-aware of the unique natural resources this area still harbors. Despite over 150 years of development and human use there are still returning populations of native wild steelhead trout and salmon. Our logging, farming and developments have changed the local environment and altered many of the natural processes. However, Coho salmon and native steelhead are still in Abernethy and Holcomb Creeks. The Beaver-Parrot Creek system has historically harbored native Chinook salmon (40 years ago). Residents of Caulfield creek tell stories of 16 inch cutthroats migrating under Highway 213.

Recruiting council members to join the Council has not been easy. In May, the District was fortunate enough to have about a dozen residents commit to sit on a Steering Committee. This Committee was made up of private landowners that met for over 10 Mondays to hammer out a mission statement, a set of by-laws and guiding policies. These draft by-laws can be viewed on the District website www.cc-swcd.org

Two more public meetings in July resulted in recruiting additional conservation leaders. The District is considering appointing interested citizens to each of the proposed 15 voting positions on the council. This group can then continue to build recognition in the community and set schedules for official elections. The current plan identifies 10 separate geographical regions to have citizen representation. There will also be 5 at-large positions not specifically tied to a geographic area, but also having official voting status on the council. The group has the makings of a strong technical advisory committee that includes Civil Engineers and Fish Biologists.

The seed has been planted and new organization is growing to support the unique natural resources that the greater Oregon City area has to offer.

It is not too late to become involved. A strong council will have many citizens to run programs, chair committees and support council activities. For information contact Jeffrey Kee, Conservation Specialist, jeffrey.kee@or.nacdnet.net 503-656-3499

STORMWATER DIVISION NEWS

As autumn approaches and leaves start to fall, please keep in mind that raked leaves need to be placed in your yard debris container for recycling. Please do not dispose of your leaves in the streets. Public Works does not clean up leaves that are disposed of in the street. Leaves disposed in the street can create local flooding by clogging catch basins as well as blocking rainwater flowing along the curb. Help keep the storm drain system clear so that it operates properly when the rains come. Thanks for your cooperation.

BARBEQUE SAFETY TIPS

Because gas and charcoal grills cause an average of 1,500 structure fires and 4,800 outdoor fires in or on properties according to National Fire Protection Agency, extra precaution will make your summer barbeque season a safe one.

- When using barbeque grills on decks or patios, keep them well away from siding, deck railings and from under eaves or overhanging branches.
- Make sure that you have the appropriate size barbeque. A barbeque that is too large for your deck could cause a fire, because there is not adequate space.
- Always supervise a barbeque grill when in use and do not leave unattended.
- Locate barbeque grills away from foot traffic, play areas and on a safe flat surface.
- Use only charcoal starter fluids with charcoal grills designed for barbeque grills and do not add fluid after coals have been lit. Light the coals carefully avoiding the flames to flare-up. Reseal and store the can out of reach of children and away from heat source.
- With gas grills, be sure that the hose connection is tight and check hoses carefully for leaks.
- When disposing of used charcoal briquettes, make sure they are cool before discarding. Discard into a non-flammable container such as a metal bucket. Water should be added to cool the ashes, remembering to stay back from potential hot steam. Do not leave hot ashes unattended. House fires have been caused by hot ashes which later ignited when left on a deck or porch.

LIBRARIES CHANGE LIVES

Looking back on his childhood, actor/director Robert Redford recalls weekly visits to the library with his parents as a major influence. "...the library had a greater impact on me than I ever knew... I would go to the children's area and read Rafael Sabatini and Greek mythologies... I fell in love with reading. I would take a book out, take it home, and it would be my book until the next Wednesday night."

One million libraries worldwide hold 16 billion volumes. That's about 2.5 items for each person on earth. At an average price of $20 per book, the worldwide library inventory approaches nearly a third of a trillion dollars.

SECOND ANNUAL FIRST CITY ARTS FAIRE COMMUNITY EVENT

The Oregon City Arts Commission was pleased to welcome back the popular event that brought out an estimated 9000 people over its two-day run, more than doubling the attendance from last year's successful inaugural affair.

There was an abundance of ART to please every eye! Savory FOOD to tempt every palate! And more than enough ENTERTAINMENT to keep everyone happy and amused! Even the kids had an opportunity to be artists for the day at the Art Comes Naturally to Oregon City art station! The second annual First City Arts Faire had promised Something for Everyone and it delivered!

Over 50 juried artists displayed and sold their wares ranging from fine oils, watercolors, blockprints and pastels to whimsical garden art, colorful textiles, imaginative ceramics and sparkling jewelry, to list but a few. Rick True's ingenious free form sculptures were a delight and wonderment to young and old alike.

The Art Faire opened with a rededication ceremony and 30 year anniversary of the Tateshina/Oregon City Sister City Peace Garden. Fifteen delegates from Japan were present to join in on the festivities. Mayor Norris gave an opening welcome for the ceremony. All delegates were given a complimentary Arts Faire t-shirt to remember the occasion.

Those that gathered to enjoy the pleasant stroll through the art booths on the grounds of the Carnegie and Pioneer Centers were treated to music and entertainment throughout each day by returning favorites Ron Saltmarsh, thiswaythat and the Willamette Falls Symphony. Welcome additions to the cheerful atmosphere were the Swing Street Glenn Tadina Big Band, River Winds and the enjoyable and energetic, Krayon Kids Musical Theatre Troupe.

No one went hungry with local restaurant, Bugatti's, serving up a special Faire menu of epicurean delights and an opportunity to taste and purchase a selection of special wines and beers. Campfire USA volunteers kept the air filled with the aroma of freshly popped popcorn and the beautiful grounds free of litter.

A true community event that promises more ART, FOOD and ENTERTAINMENT, The First City Arts Faire will return next year the second weekend in July. Don't miss it!

OREGON CITY ARTS COMMISSION SEEKING NEW MEMBERS

The Oregon City Arts Commission is seeking two new members to help support the continued vitality of the arts in the City of Oregon City. Commission members are from a broad spectrum of citizens and students representing the performing arts, music, drama, the visual arts, literary arts and fields of structural and landscape architecture. At least five of the nine members of the Commission must reside inside the city limits. The appointees have three-year terms. If you are interested, please contact Lynda Orzen, Secretary at Orzep@bctonline.com or 503-313-0024. Applications can be downloaded at <http://www.orcity.org/boards-committees-commissions/Applications/Arts%20Commission.pdf>

HAVE FUN LIKE A KID AGAIN!!

Think back when you were a kid. Who was it that brought magic into your life just by being there? Who do you always remember with a smile? Maybe it was an aunt who taught you to cook, or a neighbor who let you help him fix his car. Or maybe it was someone who just included you in everyday activities of life because it was fun – for both of you. Now you have the opportunity to have fun like this again, and at the same time make a big positive difference in the life of a young person.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Metropolitan Portland (BBBSMP) is expanding its program to serve all of Clackamas County, and we are looking for more community members who want to be friends and Big Brothers and Big Sisters for local kids.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Metropolitan Portland is a non-profit organization that enhances the positive development of youth (Little Brothers and Little Sisters) by matching them with caring adults for friendship, encouragement and support. National research shows that Little Brothers and Sisters are more likely to display positive behaviors at home and at school. BBBSMP matches children ages 6 to 16 who need an adult friend with a Big Brother or a Big Sister. BBBSMP serves children of all family, social, racial and economic backgrounds.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters come from all backgrounds. In order to be a Big Brother or a Big Sister, all you need is an interest in becoming friends with a young person with whom you can do all sorts of fun and educational activities. Volunteers are screened to ensure their suitability for our program.

Big Brothers and Sisters and Little Brothers and Sisters get together three times per month for at least a year. Staff members oversee the matches and provide them with suggestions and ideas to make those relationships successful.

If you are interested in being a Big Brother or a Big Sister, call 503-249-4859 to get the process started. If you have a child who could benefit from our program, call us at the same number too. Our Clackamas County staff will be glad to answer any questions and help get you signed up for the program.

MURAL COMMITTEE MEMBERS NEEDED

The Oregon City Arts Commission is seeking members for the Mural Committee. The Mural Committee is made up of five (5) members, comprised of people from all walks of life, private citizens, business people, and civic leaders dedicated to seeing that the existing project, "Trail of Murals," continues to be a viable part of the Oregon City Arts Community.

Duties of the Committee will be the following:

1. To create an inventory of the existing murals and oil originals with a financial assessment and any maintenance requirements.
2. Fundraise through private funding, grants or benefits.
3. Identify and secure properties for a wall inventory.
4. Identify artists and subjects that are historic in nature and relevant to the area and buildings.

For more information, please contact Lynda Orzen, Secretary, Oregon City Arts Commission at 503-313-0024 or Orzep@bctonline.com.

NEIGHBORHOOD COLORING BOOK NOW AVAILABLE

Dean Walch, artist and McLoughlin Neighborhood Association co-chair, has created a coloring book featuring 12 historic houses of our neighborhood. The houses are focused in one area of our boundaries, with the idea of doing a coloring book each year that focuses on a different section. You can purchase these coloring books at Carnegie Center, End of the Oregon Trail Museum, Museum of the Oregon Territory, as well as at McLoughlin Neighborhood Association meetings. All net proceeds from the coloring books go to the neighborhood association and the organization selling the book.

DRINKING WATER QUALITY NEWS

Oregon City Water Division receives occasional calls from customers about the presence of "white chunks" or eggshell-like particles that clog faucet aerators and showerheads. This problem is caused by hot water heaters that are experiencing dip tube failure.

The dip tube delivers cold water to the bottom of the hot water heater tank. Many dip tubes manufactured between 1993 and 1996 were found to be defective and, over time, have begun to deteriorate. As the plastic dip tube breaks apart, pieces flow out of the tank through the hot water outlet and clog aerators and showerheads. These plastic pieces could be white or light green in color and if placed in a glass of water they will float. They are in no way toxic and will not make the water toxic. The defective dip tube can however, affect the performance of your water heater.

There are two solutions to this problem. One is to flush all the dip tube debris from the heater tank, install a new dip tube, and then flush all the strainers and aerators. The second solution is to replace the water heater and then clean and flush the strainers and aerators. Contact a licensed plumber for additional information.

Questions or concerns about your drinking water? Contact Gail Johnson at 503-657-8241 extension 107 or email gjohnson@ci.oregon-city.or.us. Clackamas River Water customers may get answers to their drinking water questions by calling 503-722-9241.

A resident is any person who lives within the city limits of Oregon City. This is not to be confused with school attendance. Even though your mailing address is Oregon City, this does not necessarily mean that you are a City resident. Most program/classes have different fees for residents and non-residents (example: $10/15, the first fee is OC resident fee, the second is outside the city residents). Non residents must pay an additional surcharge. The cost of these programs comes exclusively from city taxpayers. Fairness requires that non-city residents share the burden of expense. Oregon City Parks and Recreation reserves the right to remove anyone falsifying information from our programs. Please call if you have any questions regarding residency.

LESSON TIPS, FACTS AND REMINDERS

Please pull back your child's long hair or have them wear a swim cap. Also, make sure that they use the restroom before class begins.

Our water temperature is 85 degrees.

Remember, most children must repeat a level several times before passing to the next. If a child becomes "stuck" at the same level for many sessions, a break from lessons may help as they grow in size and strength. Private lessons may also help.

Also, remember that children 7 and older are not allowed in the changing room of the opposite gender. If your child needs assistance, please make arrangements with the staff at the front counter.

If you have any questions for your child's instructor, please feel free to speak to them after class. However, remember, they often have another class to teach within a few minutes.

Children 8 and under need to be supervised by a responsible person 13 or older.

AM I A RESIDENT?

A resident is any person who lives within the city limits of Oregon City. This is not to be confused with school attendance. Even though your mailing address is Oregon City, this does not necessarily mean that you are a City resident. Most program/classes have different fees for residents and non-residents (example: $10/15, the first fee is OC resident fee, the second is outside the city residents). Non residents must pay an additional surcharge. The cost of these programs comes exclusively from city taxpayers. Fairness requires that non-city residents share the burden of expense. Oregon City Parks and Recreation reserves the right to remove anyone falsifying information from our programs. Please call if you have any questions regarding residency.

CANCELLATION

If a class has not met its minimum registration requirements by two (2) working days prior to its beginning, the class will be cancelled. You will be notified accordingly.

LIBRARY LEVY ON THE NOVEMBER BALLOT

In January of 2004 the Clackamas County Board of Commissioners decided to follow the recommendation of the countywide library advisory committee to place a local option levy on the November 2004 ballot.

This levy, if approved, would provide additional funding that is intended to allow public libraries countywide to sustain services at current levels for the five-year period of 2005-2010. Should the levy pass, it would raise $8 million a year to be used countywide for library operations. In Oregon City this would mean a gain of just over $300,000 for the fiscal year 2005-2006. This opens the possibility of a recovery of hours and staffing, more materials and a look at expanding our space. Failure of the levy would reduce our library's funding by $139,000 and we would need to look at cutting staff levels and further reducing hours, services and material acquisitions. Pass or fail, neither election result leaves the library at status quo.

The proposed levy of 29 cents per $1,000 would mean the owner of a house valued at $150,000 would pay $43.50 per year if the levy were approved. How much each library would receive from the levy funding, should it pass, is dependent on a formula which factors in service area and circulation. Fifteen percent of the formula is based on the number of people who live within the library's service area, which in Oregon City's case includes all of those households in zip code 97045 and 97004, extending beyond City limits out to Redland, Beaver Creek and Carus. 85 percent of the formula is based on circulation numbers.

GIFTS GALORE!

Computer Monitors: We were recently gifted with 21 monitors for use on the public and staff computers. As PGE upgraded their equipment they passed on their 17-inch monitors to the school district who, having used all that they could, passed on a portion of the windfall to us.

Videos: When the Clackamas County ESD found that it no longer had room to store its vast collection of educational videos, it was decided to distribute the videos throughout the county to the various libraries. Library staffs were given the opportunity to "shop" and select some to add to their collections. Titles include some popular PBS series, as well as videos on subjects of interest to schoolchildren. What this means for our patrons is that we now have access to many titles that were previously only available in school classrooms. These titles will be beneficial to home schooling families, as well as anyone interested in the topics included. They are still available to teachers throughout the county as well. Most of ours will be found in our Children's Department. Look for the solid blue boxes on our video shelves.

Compact Discs: Through a recent settlement with the recording industry, over 67,000 CDs will be made available to school and public libraries throughout the state of Oregon. Our anticipated windfall is expected to be over 600 CDs. We do not have a timeline, but we hope to start adding them to our collection early this fall.

CULTURAL PROGRAMMING

We offer a range of cultural programming, from music to lecture, demonstrations to dance throughout the year. These programs are made possible, in part, by generous donations from the Friends of the Library. Additional programs may be added after publication time. ANSWERS TO LIFE'S BURNING QUESTIONS

Our reference librarians staff a rotating schedule on the statewide online reference program. This service, known as "L-Net", is available from our website or by pointing your internet browser to www.oregonlibraries.net. Patrons go "live" with a reference librarian for assistance in answering questions. Responsibility for staffing "L-Net" is shared with many other libraries across the state so a patron may actually be talking to a reference librarian in an Oregon library other than ours.

LIBRARIES CHANGE LIVES

"As a growing boy one public building had more to do with my development as a creative cartoonist than all the state capitols, city halls, court houses, police stations combined: the library. It was a font of information, inspiration and entertainment — and it still is" says Bil Keane, cartoonist/creator of the Family Circus.

In the last 10 years the Clackamas County population has increased 14.4%. How much do you think the percentage of patrons' library checkouts has increased in the same period? In 1994, the total circulation of all 12 libraries was 2,782,342. In 2004, it was 5,792,036 for a gain of 108%!

HELPFUL FALL TIPS FROM YOUR OREGON CITY PARK STAFF

- Apply fall fertilizer to lawns, check pH and apply lime as needed to lawns. This application is one of the most important to remember, this helps the lawns thru the winter and into the spring.
- Fallen leaves can be used as mulch, or can be composted.

PARKS UPDATE

- The Clackamas River Trail is currently under construction. The trail will connect Clackamette Park to the old 82nd street bridge, via new bike lanes on Main Street and a new trail through Clackamette Cove. This project is scheduled to be completed by early October.
- Wesley Lynn Park construction has begun. This phase of the park will include two baseball/softball fields, trails, a soccer field, parking lot and play equipment. Wesley Lynn Park is scheduled to be ready for use by next spring. The city's largest fully developed park, Wesley Lynn Park, is named for a lifelong resident who occupied part of the property off South Leland. The project will include two baseball fields, a soccer field, playground equipment, utility installation and grading of the 19 acre park.
Eventually, plans call for another soccer field, a water park, a restroom, paths, ball field lighting, more playground equipment, a picnic shelter and purchase of a little more land
- The City has entered into a contract with Advanced American Diving to construct a floating dock off of Jon Storm Park near the Rivershore Hotel. The dock will provide transient tie up for boaters and commercial tour boats using the Willamette River who wish to visit Oregon City.
- A master plan for Jon Storm Park is in its final public comment phase. The park will provide amenities both for users of the dock as well as the public who may wish to find a quiet spot to enjoy views of the Willamette River. The current plan calls for restrooms, parking under the I 205 bridge, trail connections, picnic tables and perhaps a small shelter. Plans also include a replanting of a grove of elms near the site of the historic Abernethy Elm. The final meeting on plan design will be held September 27, 7 PM at the Pioneer Center.
- The lighting project in Park Place has a completion date of fall 2004.
