Dear Oregon City Library Patron,

Thank you for your message. While we can't yet provide an answer about when the Library will re-open, I can assure you that we are closely monitoring the COVID-19 situation, as well as the evolving guidance from the Governor's Office, the State Library, and public health authorities. We want to ensure that, when we do reopen, we do so in a way that is consistent with state guidance and safeguards the health and safety of our community and our staff.

The latest information about any reopening plans will always be posted on the City website, www.orcity.org, and will also be publicized through multiple social media sites/platforms.

In the meantime, while the building is closed, we are augmenting, developing, and offering a wide variety of online materials, resources, and programming. To find the latest information about our online offerings, I encourage you to visit <https://www.orcity.org/library/oregon-city-library-online>, or follow the Oregon City Public Library on your preferred social media platform. We regularly announce our new programs and will share any changes in operations. We know that not everyone can easily access online or web-based resources, so our staff is also available by phone from Monday – Friday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM and is happy to provide one-on-one assistance or support. We miss our patrons and look forward to providing you and your family a high quality, safe library experience.

Thank you again for your message, and please let us know if you have any further questions or if we can provide any additional information.
