Description of Physical and Landscape Features:
This one story Modern Commercial houses the Huntley-Draper Drug Company and sits under a flat roof with a large projecting cornice of wood. The building features a Roman brick façade laid in a running bond and a large bank of storefront windows at the southwest corner. These windows are fixed aluminum sashes with a single aluminum framed glass door serving as the entry to the building. A steel awning projects out to cover the entry on the west end of the south façade. A low brick planter runs the rest of the length of this façade, and wraps around the east end of the building.
