Description of Physical and Landscape Features:
This modest bungalow sits under a side gable roof, with a projecting gable on the west side over the entry porch. The gables feature boxed eaves and knee brackets at the gable ends, formed by a diagonal member supporting the exposed purlins. The porch gable is supported by new wrought iron columns, and a matching railing surrounds the porch. The house is clad with drop siding, finished with cornerboards, except the foundation which has been clad with Roman brick. The windows are all sliding vinyl sashes with narrow trim moldings. A large brick chimney is centrally located in the house, and a carport has been added to the north side.
